Library

SKU: PIMOAR-501-PROSPETTIVE LIBRARY

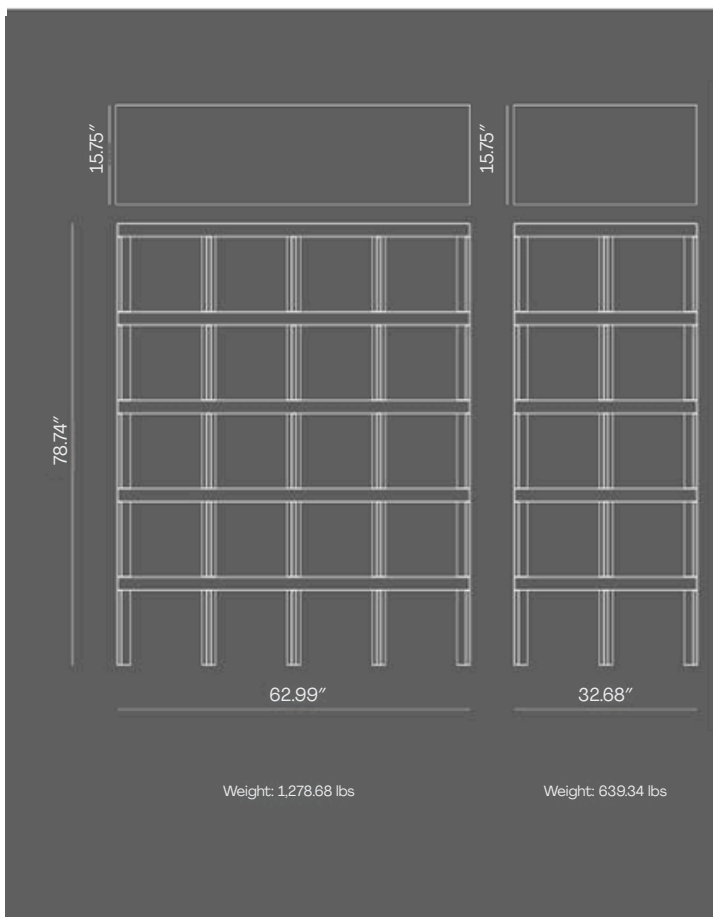

Prospettive is an innovative project that declares the relationship between man and nature through the instrumental declination (use of machinery) to create and produce a harmonious furnishing solution that comes from stone. Prospettive is composed of a modular bookcase and a table, apparently banal subjects, but in this case realized following the theme of perspective that modifies the structural sense of the elements depending on how the work is observed. The planes that form the bookcase and the table, seen in profile, follow the particular shape of an elongated rectangular triangle.
